First Step Is Taken Towards Renomination Of Hoover

APPEAL TO REPUBLICAN PARTY MADE

WICKERSHAM PROHIBITION REPORT WILL BE IN HANDS OF PRESIDENT BY NIGHT

Executive Director Sends Out Letters to Precinct Leaders of U. S. HOOVER IS EXTOLLED

Leaders Urged to Resist All Attempts to Damage Chief's Reputation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(UP)—A formal appeal to the Republican party, generally looking upon as the inauguration of President Hoover's campaign for renomination, has been issued by Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the Republican national committee.

The appeal was made in the form of a circular letter to party precinct leaders throughout the country. Much of it is devoted to praise of Mr. Hoover's administration and an urgent demand that the party resist all attempts to damage his reputation.

Copies of the letter, dated two days before Christmas but only now revealed, disclose the general plan of the renomination and reelection campaign. The circular extols Mr. Hoover as a business expert who "has sustained the American scale of wages, maintained the American standard of living, prevented a nation-wide money panic, and kept thousands of men and women at work in every community who would otherwise have been listed among the unemployed."

The result of the recent election was minimized, and termed "in reality a great victory for the Republican party," and "an evidence of the strength of the Republican administration with the people."

Lucas pointed out that, while the Democrats gained 75 congressional seats in 1922, last fall they gained "only 51." He added that the Republicans had won the 1924 election, and predicted a similar consummation in 1932. To elect even a majority in an off-year is in reality a "victory," he said.

SEARCH GULF FOR MISSING FLIERS

GALVESTON, Tex., Jan. 14.—(UP)—Close watch was kept over gulf waters today for the wreckage of an airplane which was believed to have carried two Fort Crockett aviators to their death.

The plane was forced down in a heavy rainstorm Sunday, and exhaustive search failed to reveal a trace of it or the flyers. Lieut. J. E. Grasty and Corporal Philip Schuchman.

Officials of the third attack group, of which the missing men were members, have abandoned hope that their comrades are alive.

Major Davenport Johnson, group commander, led 27 planes over the gulf for 50 miles at sea, and temporarily abandoned the search last night.

PHIL STANTON MAY BE NAMED TO STATE POST

Orange County Man May Accept Appointment on Highway Commission

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(UP)—

POSSIBILITY that Orange county will continue to be actively represented on the state highway commission was seen yesterday in a statement made by Phil A. Stanton, Orange county rancher and member of the Republican state central committee, during an interview with a Register representative.

Stanton, who is an active supporter and personal friend of Governor James Rolph, was recently mentioned in the press as a possible appointee of the governor's to the commission, but wired the state executive at that time stating he preferred to remain a private in the ranks. It was learned yesterday that the matter has since been the subject of several conversations between Governor Rolph and the Orange county man, with the governor insisting that he accept the appointment.

"I might reconsider the matter and accept the appointment," Stanton said yesterday, first making it clear that it was against his personal inclination. He asserted that if he did take the job he would be actuated in its acceptance solely by the repeated requests of the governor and the feeling that he might be of some service to Orange county and this section of the state in the capacity suggested by the governor. "I much prefer to remain in the ranks of the party, but the insistent requests of the governor may mean that I shall forget my personal desires and accept the post," Stanton said.

J. P. Baumgartner, president of the Commercial National bank and former publisher, was a member of the highway commission during the administration of C. C. Young as state executive, his resignation being submitted to the former governor late last month.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Jan. 14.—Capt. Malcolm Campbell, British speed driver, will make his try for a new record between February 2 and 16, city authorities said today.

Campbell is expected to arrive here with his car January 26 and will need a week of mechanical adjustments and preliminary tests.

74 Million Naval Bill Is Reported

Measure Provides For Construction of Eleven New Destroyers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(UP)—

The house naval committee reported favorably a bill to authorize $74,030,000 for naval construction.

The navy department would be asked to build a $27,650,000 air-craft carrier, a $26,700,000 flying deck cruiser of the six inch gun type; four submarines costing $4,400,000, and 280 airplanes at a cost of $5,000,000.

The committee struck from the bill a six inch gun cruiser which would have cost $16,615,000. In so doing, it sided with the navy general board against the administration.

Navy Secretary Adams asked that the cruiser be built, but the general board declared itself doubtful of the value of this type of vessel.

In addition to the construction provided for in the bill, the navy's building program for the coming year includes one destroyer leader to cost $5,300,000 and ten destroyers to cost $4,700,000. The cost of the entire program is estimated at $126,330,000.

Chairman Britton of the committee said the six inch gun flying-deck cruiser was approved because of its experimental nature. He said the committee felt this experiment might revolutionize naval warfare and prove highly valuable to this country.

He added that early action on the bill in house and senate will be sought in an effort to carry out as far as possible the provisions of the London treaty.

AUTO SPEED TESTS SET FOR FEB. 2-16

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Jan. 14.—Capt. Malcolm Campbell, British speed driver, will make his try for a new record between February 2 and 16, city authorities said today.

The dates were written in the application of the American Automobile association's sanction of the trials, signed by Mayor B. B. Baggett.

GASOLINE WAR SEEN IN SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—(UP)—A gasoline price war appeared imminent today as independent dealers in many bay regions retailed gas as low as 17 cents, four cents under the standardized rate.

Major oil companies generally refused to comment on the situation but one official of a leading distributing company said the action of the independents in undercutting the market and a certain lack of confidence in the oil curtailment program might force a price-cutting war.

SHANGHAI-MANILA FLIGHT PROJECTED

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Jan. 14.—(UP)—Another Alaska air tragedy was feared here today when both Frank Dorband, intrepid aviator, and Alonso Cope failed to return from the Carron Rock inlet region, to where they flew Saturday and Sunday.

Cope took off on a short commercial flight to that region Saturday. It was only his second solo flight since he obtained his transport license two weeks ago. When he failed to return, Dorband left here Sunday to look for him. No word has been received from either of them.

Using a plane called the Phoenix, Brophy plans to take off from Hungjao aerodrome here.

SNOWSTORM ADDS TO GRIEF OF FARMERS IN ARKANSAS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 14.—(UP)—Barren cupboards and empty bread boxes in homes of hundreds of destitute Arkansas farmers today taxed human relief agencies in this state.

Taking the lead in the relief campaign is the National Red Cross whose liaison officers are already here and in small towns directing the work.

The number of sufferers is estimated upwards of 100,000 and conservative investigators have said the number will total 225,000 before spring and warm weather sets in and planting can begin.

A bleak northwestern snow-storm which swept in last night added today to grief of many families who not only lacked food but clothing, fuel and proper shelter as well.

National attention to this situation resulted when a food uprising occurred at England,

Arkansas, farming community about 30 miles south of here. England, a village of about 2,500 persons has since the disturbance which occurred ten days ago, maintained a food and clothing relief line of farmers, their wives, daughters and sons.

The same procedure is going on in a half dozen other communities and some suffering is said to be more severe than at England.

Briefly conditions which led to this state-wide depression and resultant suffering are four:

1—The drought of last summer.

2—Unemployment.

3—The general depression.

4—The series of bank closings which began 60 days ago with the closing of the American Exchange Trust company of Little Rock, century old financial institution and depository of the funds of many smaller banks.

SANTA ANA-TUSTIN MUTUAL GROWERS HOLD MEETING AND REPORT PROSPEROUS SEASON

A YEAR WHICH BROKE all records for receipts was reported today by A. J. Theis, manager of the Santa Ana-Tustin Mutual Circus Association, in the annual meeting of that concern.

Although because of the generally short crop the shipments of this concern were a little more than half as great as in the 1929 season, receipts to the house and returns to growers established high points over every season since the concern has been in business, Theis stated.

"Our receipts for the year were $421,660.41," he told the members of the organization. "The concern during the 1930 season handled 111,000 field boxes of fruit.

"Navel averages for the year were $2.37 the field box, net. St. Mike's and odd varieties paid the grower $3.46 the field box. Our averages for valencias, by pools, were:

"First poor, $3.42; second pool, $3.21; third pool, $3.52; fourth pool, $3.97; off bloom, $3.24."

"These averages," he added, "were for all fruit delivered to the house during the season, with every grade and size, and the returns are net to the growers, with picking and hauling deducted and include refund."

The annual meeting opened at noon, today, in the First Presbyterian church in Tustin. Talks on present conditions and future prospects in the citrus industry were made by C. P. Earley, general manager of the M. O. D.; J. A. Steward, sales manager; Bruce W. McDowell, general counsel; E. J. Brickell, manager of the supply department; A. L. Chardier, manager of the fertilizer department; W. H. Blodget, manager field department.

A turkey dinner was served for 150 persons.

The report by Theis, in addition to giving the returns also went into the facts of past performance and future prospects of the association.

"Our packing cost was low in 1930," he told his growers. "Because of this we are able to re-

Commission Holds Final Meet Today

Findings of Hoover's Law Enforcement Body to Be Held Secret

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(UP)—

The Wickersham commission held a formal session here today to give final approval to its prohibition report before sending it to the White House late today.

Less than half a dozen members of the commission were present, the others having left for their homes in widely scattered parts of the country.

Except for a separate opinion written by Henry W. Anderson of Richmond, Va., the report was believed ready for the president. Anderson's opinion was to be submitted today and attached to the main document.

It is not known definitely just when the report will be made public, but it was indicated at the commission offices it will be forthcoming this week.

Members of the commission here for the meeting today were Chairman Wickersham, Dean Roscoe Pound, Judge Kenneth Mackintosh and Anderson.

ESCAPES DEATH AS BULLET HITS HOME

LYNWOOD, Calif., Jan. 14.—(UP)—A few hours before voters were to go to the polls to decide a recall election centering upon Mrs. Addie Kimble, 55, member of the Lynwood city council, she narrowly escaped death when a bullet crashed through a window into the living room of her home.

Mrs. Kimble had been talking with some women friends and when they left started to work at a small table near a window. The bullet shattered the window a few minutes later and passed close to her head.

The councilwoman declared she believed an attempt was made on her life and deputy sheriffs were ordered to patrol Lynwood streets during the election day.

NO TRACE FOUND OF MISSING SEAPLANE

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 14.—(UP)—

The body of Art Acord, one-time motion picture actor, was to continue on its journey to Los Angeles by plane.

There was no panic aboard the ship after it hit the reef, the wireless reports said.

"Those people aboard the Northland are just as safe as anybody in Seattle," remarked William Semar, manager of the Northland Transportation company, owners of the Salvage King, which left Victoria last night. Their transfer to the salvage ship was expected today. Meanwhile officials of the line said there was no danger of the boat being washed off the flat into deeper water.

Reports received here today through the coast guard and other wireless stations reported all passengers and crew were aboard the boat and that there was no danger. They were awaiting the arrival of the Salvage King, which left Victoria last night. Their transfer to the salvage ship was expected today. Meanwhile officials of the line said there was no danger of the boat being washed off the flat into deeper water.

MURRAY! VICTORY!

ATLANTIC CITY.—A six-cent slander suit was recently settled here in the case of former Circuit Court Judge Cole against State Senator Richards. The case resulted in a victory for the latter when Judge Sooy directed a verdict of no cause for action. Both men in the case are local lawyers.

One of the machines most recently developed on a large scale is the motor vehicle. Directly and indirectly it has furnished employment for several millions of people. If both the workers and the tools engaged in the wagon industries became displaced, more remunerative employment was found in other and allied fields.

The machine by increasing the productive power of the workman raises his wages and standard of living. Transferring and absorbing displaced wage earners with the least possible loss is a problem industry must solve. The process is indispensable to the progress of labor. Concerns and countries that fail to adopt the most modern machinery have the least work and lowest pay for the wage earner. It is only modern equipment that promises the most work and the highest wages.

the dam which held back the flow of commerce, that surpluses have been decreasing steadily during the inactive period, and consequently that the obstruction in the stream of business is now much less formidable," Lagomarcino said.

"Perhaps it would be well to remember that when the dam goes out, we will experience a condition of renewed activity which may temporarily exceed that warranted by the new concept of normal prosperity, will not be comparable to the easy come, easy go period of war times and the long delayed return, to a saner standard of judgment.

"A full-grown, man-sized educational campaign on behalf of 400,000 rotarials" was the project proposed by Secretary William Garritt of Chicago, to be brought about by creating a new trade journal dealing solely with fruits and vegetables as many grocery trade magazines now deal with other footstuffs.

"There are 53 trade journals for groceries and not one for perishable foodstuffs," Garritt said. "It is surprising that nobody speaks up for this great industry when it hasn't the nerve to speak up for itself."

Dealing with the highway peddler problem, Farritt urged members to support in their various state legislatures a model bill of the association for regulating sale of farm products. He said a federal survey in 1928 revealed that 20 percent of the fruit and vegetable crop in western New York state moved by truck, describing this as "bringing chaos into our industry."

Another service was held last night at the Church of the United Brethren in Christ, where a revival is in progress. The Rev. T. W. Ringland, conference superintendent, took his text last night from Mark 16:16, "Who then can be saved?"

"The Bible answers the question very clearly. It says no man can be saved who will not give up sin, and that it is only when he returns to God that he will be saved. No man will be saved who trusts in his own righteousness and is not willing to admit that he is a lost sinner."

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

When you read of the solicitude Jesus showed for the hunger of the multitude, who followed him, can you doubt His tender compassion for you as you pass into the vale of sorrow and loneliness?

Do not stoically try to bear it all alone; let Him reveal to your loving care for you, so that you will escape the sense of isolation, which increases any agony.

No one but yourself can open your heart to Him; His message of courage and hope, for His touch with you is intimate and individual. But He can, and will, give you strength to "carry on" if you will lean on Him and trust Him.

DEFENSE IN BRIDGE SUIT IS PRESENTED

ALLEGED HOLDUP MAN IS JAILED

Defense was being presented today in the trial of the action brought against the city of Santa Ana for an injunction against the maintenance of the Santa Ana boulevard bridge over the Santa Ana river. A motion for non suit, presented to Judge George R. Freeman, of Riverside county, who is trying the case, was denied by the court.

The plaintiffs, including the Talbert Drainage district, Newbert Protection district and individual land owners, are alleging that construction of the bridge creates a hazard and is an obstruction in the stream that might cause damage to lands of the plaintiffs in the event of a flood. Their witnesses yesterday included Murray Thompson, county flood control engineer, W. W. Hoy and Nat H. Neff, county superintendent of highways. R. W. Patterson, city engineer for Newport Beach, was the first witness for the defendants today.

Wiley is alleged to have attempted to hold up S. S. Stambaugh, proprietor of the Camp Grove service station at Fullerton when Stambaugh turned suddenly and shot the youth twice. The bandit staggered out of the service station and was found a mile from the scene by Fullerton police officers.

On one of the first railways in America, the Mohawk and Hudson, horsepower was used at night and steam in the day. It was not considered safe to use steam after dark.

Archie Wiley, 24-year-old Long Beach man, who Saturday night was shot in the neck and thumb when he is asserted to have attempted to hold up a Fullerton service station, was brought to the county jail today.

Fullerton police booked Wiley at the jail on a charge of assault with intent to commit robbery.

STATE OFFICER SPEAKS BEFORE W. C. T. U. HERE

The Santa Ana W. C. T. U. was addressed yesterday at the regular meeting at the First Presbyterian church by Mrs. Laura McClurkin, of Los Angeles, state vice president of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. McClurkin brought out the danger of prohibition losing ground unless the church and temperance people awake to the needs of education to offset the propaganda by the wet press.

The silence of prohibition's forces opened the opportunity to the wet forces, said the speaker. "They have taken advantage of it and are spreading the wet gospel nation wide. The W. C. T. U. is agreed that education is the need of the hour in solving the alcohol problem."

The Rev. Andrew Johnson, evangelist, gave an address on prohibition in southern states. He will give a temperance address in the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church, South, on Friday at 7:30 p. m., on the subject, "Keep the Kick in the 18th Amendment."

Mrs. Estelle Harper, county president, gave a talk telling of plans of work as outlined by the state executive.

A dramatic moment in the development of the plot of "The Lady of the Terrace," sparkling little Irish operetta that Julia Lathrop junior high school glee clubs will present in the high school auditorium Thursday night, has been recorded here by the photographer. The young people were posed by their director, Miss Edith Cornell, on the junior high school campus, and include most of the principals in the cast. Reading from left to right, they are Purdie Sharon as "Dennis O'Hara"; Dorothy Drew as "Mollie O'Hara"; Jack Hubbard as "Mr. Chandler"; Alta Gregg as "Lady Stamford"; Yvonne Bruner as "Peggy Stanford"; Calvin Breeding as "Sir Clarence"; Dorothy Proctor as "Claire Chandler"; Louie Holmes as "Sir Gerald"; Clinton Campbell as "Sir Michael", and Melva Thorpe, Marie Stule and Eileen Rogers as the "Three Little Scullery Maids".

numbers, Miss Mame Havens accompanying on the piano. The morning session was opened by the president, Mrs. Amy Evans, who introduced Ensign Ruth Edwards, who led a devotion hour on the book of Habakkuk.

A short business session followed. At noon the hostesses, who were Mrs. Anna Miller, Mrs. Luella Stewart, Mrs. Percy Davis, Mrs. Nellie Tedford and Mrs. Carrie Watson, announced the luncheon, which was served in the church dining room.

Mrs. Evans was toastmistress. Mrs. Margaret McClelland, vice president, gave a vivid description of the inaugural parade at Sacramento, when Governor Ralph was inaugurated, as she witnessed it.

Mrs. Elizabeth Warren brought some interesting facts from the national convention held at Houston, Texas.

There were 65 present at the meeting, including two state officers, three county officers, six local officers and 17 directors.

HUGE PICTURE TO BE CONSTRUCTED

A 15-foot picture, the only one of its kind in America, will be constructed tonight at the First Methodist church at the mid-week service, which begins at 7:30 p. m., by Edward A. Marshall, Redpath Chautauqua lecturer.

This picture, which is unique in construction, shows village life in old Palestine. Some of the characters represented are almost life size. As the picture is built the speaker will tell of the life and customs of the people in the time of Christ. Marshall has lived in Palestine and has done considerable study and research there. He is an extensive traveler, having circled the globe twice. He has lectured in more than 1000 cities in America.

Tustin, Jan. 12, 1931.
Editor Register—Saw in today's Register (experience of Christians in China told). Will say that the Chinese as a people, peaceful, are now throwing off the yoke placed on them by Christians. They have found out that wherever what is called Christianity goes a battleship, fighting and big business follow in its wake. Their youth has studied in our universities and colleges and observed us at first hand, and has concluded that we are not a Christian nation if we cannot practice the teaching of Christ as a people and a nation, why try to force them on the so-called heathen people?

STUDENTS WILL GIVE OPERETTA HERE THURSDAY

The Whitefield Citrus Products corporation of California, limited, of Fullerton, was made defendant in a complaint which was filed yesterday in which judgment of $1765 is sought as a total claim to be due to seven former employees. Plaintiff in the action is William Mikulas, who is asking judgment for $675. He is also asking judgment for six others as follows: Oscar Weisenberg, $365; John B. Wales, $175; Karl Broking, $175; Henry Schmitt, $175; Elmer Wales, $100, and Leon Bishop, $125.

Petition for letters of administration in connection with the estate of William E. Poole was filed yesterday with County Clerk J. M. Backs by Emilie F. Darr, of San Francisco. The petition gives the value of the estate as not in excess of $5000.

Members of both Boys' and Girls' Glee clubs of the school are working as principals and members of the chorus, and the incidental orchestra accompaniment will be furnished by the combined orchestras of Julia Lathrop and Frances Willard Junior High schools under the direction of S. J. Mustol. Mrs. Maxine Bryte is assisting Miss Cornell as accompanist.

"The Lady of the Terrace" is promised as an unusually clever comedy overflowing with Irish legend and whimsy, its plot aided by pretty and catchy choruses. The young people taking part have entered into the spirit of the play admirably, according to Miss Cornell.

And while there has not been the time devoted to the production that has marked some earlier operettas, those who have watched the work

1931 WILL REWARD CAREFUL SAVERS

In the first 10 days of 1931 A NEW SAVER Every 45 Seconds . . .

Since the first of this year the 80 thousand people served by Pacific States Savings have been joined by 3,393 new savings customers, one for each 45 seconds of every business day. Their funds aggregate $2,397,609. During the same period, old savings customers added $1,696,136 to their funds here.

This is signal and gratifying recognition of a financial structure that has demonstrated its fitness under all the varying conditions of the last 41 years—and of a service to our savings customers that has never faltered since this company was organized.

Pacific States Savings has held to its true functions by encouraging the placement of funds here on an investment basis, and discouraging the placement of short term or temporary funds properly belonging in other institutions. Nevertheless, it has always helped its customers meet their emergencies by granting their requests for funds in full and without notice.

The advantage of earning 6% and 5 1/4% on your savings should be judged on the basis of our past record, and our present standing, as reflected in our Statement. Send for it.

AUTO LICENSE PLATE WARNING IS BROADCAST

The Automobile club of Southern California today called attention, through its Santa Ana office, to the fact that drivers who have not applied for 1931 license plates by January 15 will be subject to arrest and fines, as well as impoundment of their cars. The announcement said:

"The motor vehicle act, as amended in 1929, specifically states that license renewal will officially terminate at midnight January 31 but there is also a sub-section in the act which definitely calls the attention of all motorists to the fact that those who have not applied by the 15 and who still have in their possession their white certificates and are not able to show a receipt for their application will be subject to arrest, their cars impounded and fines imposed but their fee will still be the same three dollars, until, as stated above, midnight January 31. After February 2 the fee will be six dollars."

"Last year 800 motorists out of the 2,225,000 registered in the state were stopped and their cars impounded and a fine collected by the court. Hence it is advisable to inform all members that they should apply immediately, as it is the intention of the division of motor vehicles to ask the co-operation of the state police, the county and state motor patrol to start checking operators of all old licensed cars the morning of the 16."

STILL OWNERSHIP CHARGES DROPPED

The cases of Gottlieb Meager and August Jungkeit, charged with owning and operating a whiskey still, were dismissed in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today on motion of the district attorney.

The men were arrested as the result of finding of a huge whiskey plant near Buena Park on December 15, in a raid staged by District Attorney Sam Collins, Robert Sandon and members of the sheriff's office. The still and mash were confiscated.

Gottlieb, who is 80 years old, operated a rabbit hutch near the place where the still was found and was working for Jungkeit, owner of the property on which the still was located. According to District Attorney Collins, there was no way to connect the two men with ownership of the still and because the district attorney's office could not expect conviction against them, it asked that the case be dismissed.

CAPISTRANO BEACH, Jan. 14.—A petition, signed by over 200 property owners of this community, is being circulated and will shortly be presented to Washington, asking that the name of the post office be changed from Capistrano Beach, to Doheny Park. The petition cites the development being done by the Doheny interests at this point along the south coast and also makes mention of his gift of a park site to the state. Property owners claim that Capistrano Beach is often confused with San Juan Capistrano and that a change of name is advisable.

RESUME WORK AT DANA POINT SOON

DANA POINT, Jan. 14.—The executives and heads of departments of the Dana Point Land syndicate met yesterday to outline plans for a sales campaign for the Dana Point development. The large hotel, being built on the palisades, will be completed, and will be one of the show places of the south coast. Streets will be put in to units of the development, and a number of homes built on lots already purchased. An outstanding year is anticipated.

Conditions In China Outlined In Fullerton Address

W. T. BOYCE IS RE-ELECTED AS COUNCIL HEAD

FULLERTON, Jan. 14.—W. T. Boyce, dean of the Fullerton Junior college, was re-elected to head the Fullerton International Relations council at the meeting of the group last night in the First Christian church annex, when approximately 100 members and guests of the council from northern Orange county attended the gathering. Boyce has been president of the council for the past year and has built the organization from a small group to a size that is now attracting attention from peace societies throughout the nation.

Other officers elected at the meeting last night were the Rev. George F. Tinsley, vice president; Mrs. F. L. Williams, secretary; Mrs. Clarissa Story, re-elected treasurer; board-at-large, Arthur Staley and Mrs. S. W. Windle.

Dr. John Herman Wylie, acting medical secretary of the Presbyterian missions, was the principal speaker at the meeting last night, taking as his subject the problems which the churches are confronted with in China in the political change which is taking place there. Dr. Wylie for the past 14 years has been the physician at Paotinfu in China.

"Contrary to the belief of many Americans, the Chinese people are extremely anxious for the Christian missionaries to remain in China and help work out the problems there," Dr. Wylie declared. "Many newspapers broadcast the fact that there are frequent revolutions in China and that the people there are attempting to drive the missionaries out. This is not the case as the Chinese people as a whole realize the great good that the foreign missionaries are doing for them and are pleading that we remain with them. It is distressing to me to discover that so many Americans have 'cold feet' regarding China when the call for the workers there is so great."

Dr. Wylie described the fall of the Ching dynasty in China and of the later attempts to set up a republic there by the revolutionists and their successive failures, although at the present time he

MAJORITY OF AUTO CRASHES AVOIDABLE, TRAFFIC PATROL HEAD TELLS KIWANIS CLUB

BUENA PARK, Jan. 14.—Capt. Henry Meehan, of the California highway patrol gave a talk before the Buena Park Kiwanis club last night in which he stated that 95 per cent of the traffic accidents were avoidable, only a small per cent being caused by faulty mechanism of the machines. The larger number of traffic violations in October were for improper headlight adjustments, according to Meehan.

Others appearing on the program were Mrs. E. H. Rodgers and Miss Helen Hay in violin and cello duet, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. W. W. Hay. Bob Close favored with selections on the piano-accordion and the Jackson sisters gave three clever dancing and singing numbers, accompanied at the piano by Miss Cecile Templeman.

Mrs. Woodruff, who was assisted in her hostess duties by Mesdames Hay, C. J. Wall, Fred Goldson and Frances Davis, used poinsettias and foliage most artistically in decorating the club and dining room and at the tea table where Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Hay poured tea.

During the social hour the quilt, pieced and quilted by the ways and means committee of the club, was awarded to Mrs. J. Tibbitts, Santa Ana. Mrs. G. C. Folckemer, chairman of the committee, announced January 30 as the date for the country store party, to be held in the Masonic hall.

Several guests were introduced among them being Mrs. Irish, Des Moines; Mrs. Henderson, Yakima, Wash.; Mrs. Wyncoop, Pasadena, Calif.; Mrs. Wayne Morris, Compton; Mrs. Schott.

At the executive board meeting and at the regular business meeting which preceded the program only routine business was present. Mrs. E. E. Anderson presiding. Letters were read from war veterans in San Fernando expressing thanks for Christmas gifts and contributions from the club. A letter from the Placentia Round Table club stated that four boxes had been forwarded by them to veterans' hospitals in the name of the Brea club, this having been made possible by the Christmas contribution for that cause.

Mrs. F. J. Schweitzer, chairman of the music section stated that meetings dropped during the holidays are now to be resumed. Mrs. John J. Cox, president of the garden section, announced a meeting on January 22 at the Hogue ranch home near Placentia, members to leave Brea at 9:30 that morning. Mrs. A. H. Brown will entertain the art section at her home on Thursday of this week.

Mrs. W. D. Shaffer will be hostess chairman for the January 27 meeting. She will be assisted by Mesdames I. W. Barnett, Grant Sandman, Charles Croteau, Grace May and W. E. Griffith. Mrs. Cora Bryant Heywood, state chairman of international relations, will be the speaker.

PLACENTIA, Jan. 14.—S. James Tuffee, new owner of the famous Thales ranch, will begin this week to tear down the old ranch house to make room for a modern Spanish structure.

This old 14-room house was built in 1876 by an Englishman, George Hinds, who went bankrupt before it was completed. At this time another Englishman, Walter Thales, a former Methodist preacher on the Isle of Man, came here from New Zealand and in company with William Weiderhold and Hinds, took over the ranch on terms of joint ownership. A vegetarian colony was formed.

Six of the 10 acres were planted to persimmons, two to avocados, one to guavas and many semi-tropical fruits were raised, while considerable attention was given to raising nursery stock.

Of the original owners, Hinds died in 1911, Thales in 1921 and Weiderhold, who followed him in a few months, willed the property to his followers, about seven in number.

During the 46 years these three men were owners of the place, they developed from a bankrupt property perhaps the most valuable ranch in the community, the real estate being worth at that time about $60,000 in addition to which they had accumulated about $40,000 in negotiable assets, besides paying out the original indebtedness.

At the time the house was built it followed the example of many more pretentious mansions and several of the rooms had rounded corners. This gave rise in later years to the story that the corners had been eliminated to keep evil spirits from hiding in them, somewhat after the fashion of the Chinese, who turn up the edges of their roofs so that evil spirits sliding down, are skinned off into the air again.

BASKETBALL FASHIONS
Something should be done about straightening out a myriad or so basketball fashion. The game is a little different in each section of the country in which it is played. Maybe while Herr Professor Einstein is here he ought to do something about it.

Everett Dean, basketball coach for Indiana university, says the game is rougher in the east than in the middle west because there is more bodily contact. Coach Roy Mundorf, of Georgia Tech, says the east plays a rougher game than the south, but that "the middlewest plays a slam-bang game of the roughest sort with fouls called only for modified haymen and manslaughter."

IT'S ALL VERY PUZZLING
Mundorf says that eastern basketball is as different from the southern game as the south's game is from the west's. According to Mundorf, this constitutes the biggest weakness in the game. The invading team in an intersectional game is under too much of a handicap. Thus, in the northern part of the country, as Georgia reckons the north, blocking is practiced to a high degree, according to Mundorf. But the rule book says:

"A player shall not block his opponent (impede the progress of a player who has not the ball)."

The south regards as blocking any arm-waving or motions of a defending player with his back to the ball. Yet in the north, Mundorf says they play the man-to-man style, blocking and picking off, while the referees watch in silence.

OFFENSIVE ACTION
Coach Dean of Indiana says the middlewestern style of play, with offense developed to a high degree, provides thrills and action not seen in the game as it is played in certain other sections.

Mundorf says that in 10 years basketball will be the same wherever you see it.

"The south's type of game," he says, "which strictly follows the rule book, will be the fashion that finally becomes universal."

Just as intersectional games have helped in the successful standardization of football style, so these contests will help basketball, and on this point, at least, the coaches are agreed.

L. P. Andreas, basketball coach at Syracuse university, points out that one of the great evils of the game, "a disease with which the middlewest is painfully afflicted," is the stall. Andreas says that nearly all the coaches, even those using systems which invite stalling, are trying for some means to cut it out.

IT IS JUST TOO MUCH

The spectacle of the New York boxing commission handling the heavyweight championship of the world as though it were a political committee chairmanship would be funny enough to knock the customers out of their seats if the result were not so tragic.

The commission made Schmeling champion on the strength of a synthetic victory over Jack Sharkey, a victory the German plainly did not deserve. Now, to gratify an overwhelming presumption that justice shall be the creation of their hands alone, they take it away.

SUCH TALK!

In effect, it is like saying: "You, Max Schmeling, are the heavyweight champion of the world only so long as you do what we say you must. Violate our program for the handling of the heavyweight championship and the title shall be snatched from your hands. You must fight Sharkey or relinquish the heritage which John L. Sullivan handed down."

Judging by the actions of the commission, the heavyweight championship which came down through the years from Sullivan to Tunney, has been placed in the hands of a little group of politicians for administration. Whether this is asinity of the most egregious sort or plain premeditated murder is hard to decide. This, however, is evident: IT IS JUST TOO MUCH.

The New York boxing commission has tried to make the heavyweight championship of the world its political plaything, the piece de resistance of a rousing racket. Tradition that time has honored, tradition that even thugs have always this poetry have been unsuccessful. Also it was impossible to learn whether the team was just so mad at having to listen to their coach read poetry that they smacked the visiting Detroiters into a recumbent position. It is possible that he took the half-backs aside and read them:

"For men may come and men may go,
But I go on forever."

Charley Seaver, one of the youngest golfers entered in the 1930 national amateur, you remember, came very near playing Bobby Jones in the finals. He reached the semi-finals, where Gene Homans eliminated him by a slight margin after shooting his best round of the tournament. Charley is so young that he has not yet entered college.

LONG BEACH FAVORITE IN BASKET RACE

Long Beach Poly and Glendale are heavy favorites to finish one-two in the Coast Preparatory league's basketball race which swings into its second week Friday.

Long Beach has the strongest team in the conference without doubt but several of the Jackrabbits' regulars will graduate in February so Glendale is conceded an even chance of overtaking the point Hares in the stretch.

Woodrow Wilson, another Long Beach creation, and Pasadena came through first round games successfully also but they do not measure up to the standard of Long Beach and Glendale.

Glendale did not start its season last week through a misunderstanding with Fullerton. The Glendale-Fullerton tussle has been postponed until late in the season.

The standings:

Every football season the high scorers of modern football take a crack at one old record which still stands—Jim Thorpe's famous record of points individually scored in one season—198—in 1912. He was playing with Carlisle at the time, and certainly left some shoes it will take a giant to fill. Knute Rockne picked Jim Thorpe as one of the four men composing the best backfield he ever saw—and that backfield, by the way, was good enough not to include Carlisle. Thorpe was one of those exceptional natural athletes who can turn an expert hand at anything without much training. He easily won both the pentathlon and decathlon in the Olympic games, but didn't get the awards because some one unfortunately remembered having seen him play baseball one summer with a team of country pros. To win these events he had to excell in sprinting, broadjumping, high jumping, shot-putting, discus throwing, pole-vaulting, hurdle racing, throwing the javelin, middle distance running (400 meters), and long distance running (1,500 meters). Try that on your piano, modern football high-scorers.

Musical numbers were presented by a trio, David Claypool, Verne Estes and William Lowesher, and violin solos by Raymond McCall, who was accompanied by Miss Virginia Harper. James Lovett was song leader and Eric Kuchel played the accompaniments for the group singing.

YOUNG MUSICIANS TO APPEAR HERE TONIGHT

This group of talented young musicians will appear in Spanish costumes tonight at the Orange Union high school auditorium, playing with the Orange Junior Symphony orchestra. In the front row are Richard Efker, Norman Daws, Elmer Friede, Junius Stanfield, Frederick Engel; back row, Harold Kerns, Wilbur Cassidy, Richard Gregg, Howard Hansen, David Yorba and George Griffith.

Second Concert Arranged By Junior Orchestra For Orange School

ORANGE, Jan. 14.—The second of two concerts to be given in this county by members of the Orange County Junior Symphony orchestra will be presented at the Orange Union high school at 8 o'clock this evening. The first concert of the group was given in the Anaheim school auditorium recently.

The young musicians are directed by Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Sebastian Karp and the children in the orchestra, which was organized about a year ago, have shown marked ability for ensemble playing.

A juvenile quartet and the group of musicians in Spanish costumes are two of the interesting features of the program. The program arranged for the event is as follows:

"Historiette," Block, orchestra; "Calm as the Night," Bohm, saxophone quintet; "Happy Farmer," Schumann, violin quartet; "Old English Ballad," Hubay, trumpet quartet; "Brahm's Lullaby," Bramham, trio for violin, piano and cello; "Berceuse," Godard, violin solo; "Orpheus," Gluck, flute solo with string accompaniment; "Intermezzo Espagnole," Saenger, string ensemble with 12 boys; "Zephyr," Hackh, orchestra.

LEAGUE ARRANGES SESSION
ORANGE, Jan. 14.—Members of the Senior Walther league of the St. John's Lutheran church will meet at Walker Memorial hall Friday evening for a business session and social evening. Officers for the league are now elected in May rather than in January.

Albert Bosch is president of the league.

church, who do not accept Christ, many of whom are ignorant of Him, and many of whom have no conception of God, and we cannot brag about our evangelistic endeavor as long as these 15 million church-shy men are not evangelized. This task is to be done by men. Women cannot win these millions of men. Their own children cannot win them. If they are to be won for Christ they must be won by you. There is your share of this group in Orange and vicinity. They are not going to church. They are not members of church. They have little interest in church and church affairs. More than that, the church is not going to appeal to them unless the church changes radically and it will not change radically for a long time. Here is a challenging opportunity of a community men's Bible class, the biggest thing you can do in the community to appeal to these men by your consistent Christian program and simple Bible teaching and win them to a man's Christ."

CONFERENCE ON FERTILIZERS TO BE HELD FRIDAY

ORANGE, Jan. 14.—In keeping with the times, and in line with other industries, the grower and producer of agricultural products is looking to the maximum efficiency of his dollar expended. To that end a county-wide conference for citrus growers has been called by the Agricultural Extension service and the citrus department of the Orange County Farm Bureau to bring before the growers of Orange county the latest information available on the question of fertilizing citrus trees. The conference will be held in the auditorium of the Orange Union high school Friday afternoon at 8 o'clock.

A review of the extensive cost studies carried on during the past five years by the farm advisor's office reveal a considerable variation in the cost of fertilizers applied by citrus growers. The production of many orchards does not justify the high expense put into certain fertilizer schedules.

Some orchards on the other hand are receiving too little essential elements. A thorough discussion of the requirements of citrus trees

Organ Recital Scheduled For Sunday

ORANGE, Jan. 14.—The fourth organ recital of the season will be given Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Union high school, directed by Percy Green.

The following program will be given: "Prelude and Fugue," by Bach; "Scherzo," by Hoyte; "Scenes Pittoresques," by Massenet; "Valse Trieste," by Sibelius; "Masurka in E Minor," by Scriabin; "Album Leaf," by Scriabin; "Neil Gwyn Dances," by German.

The public is invited to attend this recital.

will be presented by extension specialists, including W. R. Schoonover who have made wide observations and investigations on this subject.

All growers of the county are invited to attend. This will be the only fertilizer conference to be held this spring by the agricultural extension service, according to Farm Advisor Wahlberg.

"It is being held at this time," says Mr. Wahlberg, "in order that growers may have all facts before them prior to the period of spring fertilizer purchases."

BUSINESS BETTER IN KANSAS, TEXAS

ORANGE, Jan. 14.—Returning this week from a trip through Texas and Kansas, S. B. Edwards, local real estate man, says he found that conditions in the middle west were not such as he had been led to believe. Business at Christmas time was much better than it had been the year previous, merchants told Edwards, and although no money was being made from live stock being sold this winter, no money was being lost, stockraisers breaking even.

Roads in Kansas are all open and little snow has fallen this winter in that state, Edwards said. The first snow encountered along the trip was at Denver, where he witnessed the first heavy snow to fall in that state this winter.

Mrs. Edwards accompanied her husband and the Orange couple spent Christmas with relatives in San Antonio, Tex., and New Year's with relatives in Kansas.

"You are to be commended for this public service"

Says
DR. A. F. ADAMS
City Health Officer, Reno, Nevada

...one of 56 health officials from 56 different points approving Cremo's crusade against spit or spit-tipping.

Every smoker, every wife whose husband smokes cigars, should read Dr. Adams' letter.

"Who are the friends of 'Spit'?"

YOU MAY WELL ASK THIS QUESTION WHEN 56 IMPORTANT HEALTH OFFICIALS HAVE WRITTEN SO STRONGLY AGAINST THE EVILS OF SPIT OR SPIT-TIPPING.

Dr. Adams writes: "The use of the word 'spit' forcibly calls attention to the evils of the 'spit-tipping' methods and no other word could as effectively get over your message to the public."

The American Cigar Company,
111 Fifth Avenue,
New York, New York.

Gentlemen:

Your very effective campaign in the newspapers against "spit-tipping" by some cigar manufacturers is decidedly in the interest of the public health and in my opinion you are to be commended for this public service.

The use of the word "spit" forcibly calls attention to the evils of the "spit-tipping" methods and no other word could as effectively get over your message to the public.

Our health department is interested in those campaigns which tend to improve general health conditions and in our opinion your present campaign comes within this classification.

Therefore since I consider your campaign to be in the interest of public health since it directs attention to a bad sanitary condition in some cigar manufacturing plants, you have my permission to use this letter if my statement is of value to you.

Sincerely yours,
Dr. A. F. Adams
City Health Officer.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL WORK IS OUTLINED

A discussion of subjects taught in the junior high schools of Santa Ana and the values which may be derived therefrom is contained in an article which has just been prepared by the principals of the two junior high schools under the direction of Superintendent of Schools J. A. Cranston. The article points out the various subjects that are required by the state in the program of public instruction and also the value of additional subjects which are presented, and the activities known as "extra-curricular."

The article, which was prepared by Lyle Mitchell, principal of the Frances Willard school, and H. G. Nelson, principal of the Julia Thresher school, follows:

"Believing that an institution of such wide influence and importance as public school should be of interest to everyone, we are glad of this opportunity to present to the people, whom we consider our stockholders, this brief resume of subjects being taught and of the values which may be derived from them by the students."

"The years spent in a junior high school cover that period of time in the life of a student when the transition between childhood and manhood or womanhood is most rapid. It is, therefore, necessary for us to fill the needs of childhood without losing sight of the larger necessities which come with manhood and womanhood. To make the problem more difficult we receive our 'customers' from all types of environments and background and with interests and abilities varying from one extreme to the other. Our task is to provide these with the elementary skills, knowledges, attitudes and habits which will enable them to continue their education and eventually find their places in our social order."

"To insure an honest attempt on our part the state has enumerated some twelve subjects in which instruction must be given. In order to facilitate administration and instruction we have divided these subjects into related groups. Thus, English has come to include grammar, composition, spelling, penmanship, and literature, while the term social science embraces geography, history, and civics."

"The emphasis of our instruction has shifted from the formal to the functional. Indicative of this is the fact that we no longer advocate algebra and Latin for all students and such things as cube root have long been in disuse. It should be understood, however, that classes in these subjects are maintained for those who will require them later."

"Our English department has more responsibility perhaps than any other. As indicated above, it includes a variety of subjects which have as their aims the promotion of communication. Not the least of these is the fostering of the reading habit, for we realize that reading not only affords a means of relaxation but that our form of government thrives best among a well informed people."

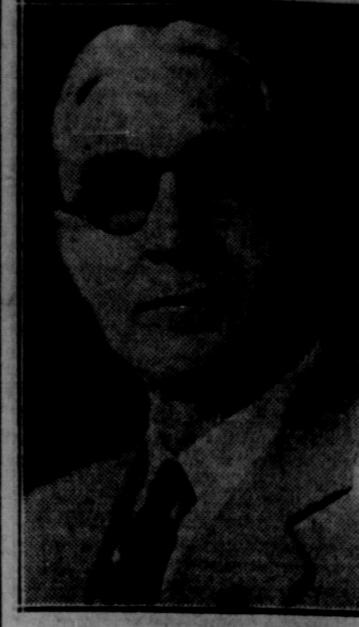

"In seventh and eighth grade mathematics we provide instruction in these phases of arithmetic which are the common need of all, leaving until the ninth year the more specialized subjects: algebra, general mathematics and junior business training. This latter course deals with the problems of the young worker in commercial situations such as: the stockroom, messenger service, shipping departments, and general clerical service, and is intended to aid students in understanding general business principles and as an introduction to specialized commercial education. Algebra is required of all who would enter college and is the necessary training of those who wish to enter engineering or any similar field. The general aims of mathematics are set forth as the development of the following: ability to form common sense estimates, the habit of scrutinizing data to seek relations in problem solving, ability to judge the accuracy of results and the acquisition of skill in mathematical procedures."

"Of the social sciences, geography is given in the seventh grade, history in the eighth and civics in the ninth. In geography we have become more interested in the people and like to investigate the influence which their land has had upon them. We have lost interest in dry facts and figures, and have become intrigued by the habits, customs and beliefs of the people living in the country under discussion. The next unit of work is the history of our own country which is followed by a brief review of the history of California. It is needless to say that in this department we strive to present our past in a manner which will lead to a pride in our citizenship and an understanding of and desire for the rights and privileges which are the heritage of Americans."

"Space does not permit a discussion of all subjects offered but of the remaining which include the shape, typing, science, music and art, perhaps the course called vocations might prove most interesting. Some years ago a need was felt for some general information in regard to vocational opportunities and requirements and the result was the adoption of our present

PITTSBURGH GOES OLD GOLD BY BIG PLURALITY

Ripley "BELIEVE IT OR NOT" PROVES IT

Famous Steel City gives O.Gs. Smashing Vote in latest Ripley Taste-Test

Believe it or not, taste is taste, whether its owner sports a dinner coat or a dinner pail.

I covered Pittsburgh from the Mayor's office to the sootiest, hottest steel mills. Gave every mother's son I met the four leading cigarettes with brand names concealed, and said "Try 'em!"

At the steel mills, OLD GOLD won... by 34%. At the William Penn Hotel... O. G. won... by 22%. At Police Headquarters, O. G. by 49%. At the Westinghouse works... a high voltage victory. O. G. ahead by 36%!

Blue bloods... red bloods... brain and brawn... they all like OLD GOLD'S throat-ease and taste thrill.

Can't OLD GOLD lose? It hasn't yet.

Cartoonist of World-Wide Fame Draws Comic Strip for Foster-Barker Music Co.

In "Metropolitan Movies" published in the N. Y. World and a multitude of other newspapers, Gene Carr so truly depicted American life on the street and at home that his work was given a special exhibition in the New York public library. The same delicious humor and sound philosophy appears in his latest comic strip, "NETTIE AND NUTTY," to be presented to the people of this city by The Foster-Barker Music Co., 309 W. 4th Street. This comedy brings more interest and amusement to newspaper readers than Gene Carr's first world-wide hit, "Lady Bountiful," that made his name a household word and gave him a place in the hearts and homes of the American people. Other contributions to the newspaper reading public by Gene Carr are "Just Humans" and the "Uplifting of Mickey Mooney." The first of the new series will be published in this newspaper Wednesday, January the 21st. Watch for it.

New Orange County Orchestra To Open Rehearsals

Cianfoni Will Direct Group of Musicians

According to announcement given out today, the new Orange County Philharmonic orchestra, which has been organized within the past several weeks by foremost musical leaders and prominent business and professional men and women of Santa Ana, Anaheim, Fullerton and Orange, is planning to open rehearsals within a week.

Musicians from all over the country, especially those who have had any orchestral experience, are urged to send in applications for membership in this new organization at once. They are requested to address their applications for membership to D. C. Cianfoni, at 806 North Main street, Santa Ana.

Cianfoni, who has directed the Santa Ana Symphony orchestra for the past six years has been appointed conductor of the new organization. Cianfoni stated today that membership in the orchestra will be given to any musician able to qualify, and emphasized that this will be an opportunity for many new musicians throughout Orange county to ally themselves with a symphonic organization of recognized calibre and merit, in which their musical advancement would be assured. He stressed the fact that this invitation is open to every musician interested in joining the orchestra, which anticipates a personnel exceeding 100 members.

Not only is this a county wide project for the furtherance of musical progress throughout this section, but it is a community undertaking in which leaders of the respective cities of Orange county are co-operating whole heartedly. Local concerts will be offered during the season in each of the four towns now co-operating for the success of the project. Local committees also are organized in each community for the purpose of facilitating details connected with the presentation of this concert series.

Although the date and locality of the first concert have not yet been set, in all probability the new Orange County Philharmonic orchestra will present on this occasion such ambitious masterpieces as Dvorak's famous "New World Symphony" in full, also "The Sorcerer's Apprentice" by Paul Dukas, one of the foremost French contemporary composers. This latter work is widely recognized as one of the most colorful of all distinctly modern orchestral works.

EASIEST WAY TO BREAK UP A COLD

Millions Say of This Proven Way
Works Fast—Makes You Feel Like a New Person Before You Know It

If you want quick relief from a cold, go back to first principles and use something you know does the business—don't start "trying" a lot of fancy ideas or remedies. Even a "little" cold is too dangerous to take chances on.

Get Hill's Cascara Quinine. A scientific formula made to do ONE THING WELL: to knock a cold in a jiffy, not to cure a hundred different things.

Take two tablets every three hours. Drink lots of water between times—that's all. Soon those mean, aching pains in head and body begin to go; the cold breaks up; poisons leave your system. Almost before you know it, you feel like a new person.

If it doesn't do that, you'll get your money back. Get a box now. You'll be surprised at the speed with which it works. Costs only a few cents.

LENIENCY FOR DRUNK DRIVERS TO BE CURBED

Due to a noticeable increase in the number of drunken drivers in the past several weeks, charges against whom have all been reduced to reckless driving, L. C. Rogers, chief of police, announced today that in the future when persons are arrested for driving while under the influence of liquor, this charge will stand against them when they are taken to court.

Records show that virtually all driving drunk cases have been reduced before the prisoners go to police court. In court they are charged with reckless driving.

"In the future, the police department will not reduce these charges. It was done in the past because we felt that the cases could be better handled, but drunk driving is on the increase in Santa Ana, and the police department is determined to break it up," Chief Rogers said.

"We are going to call a spade a spade and when a man is arrested for driving a car while intoxicated, such will be the charge against him so far as my department is concerned," the chief of police said.

There are a number of persons who would not object to having publicity to the effect that they were arrested for reckless driving because violation of motor vehicle laws is not generally considered such a crime, but publicity on a charge which might be a felony would be looked at in a different light, it was thought by the chief.

The penalty for reckless driving has a maximum of 90 days in jail, or a fine of $250. If the driving drunk charge is not reduced, the prisoner could be fined $500 with a maximum jail sentence of six months, according to the law.

"Our sole purpose is to break up what is probably the most dangerous driving crime of all—driving while under the influence of liquor, and I am taking this measure to break it up," said Rogers.

"At the same time, I am instructing the police department to be on the lookout for drunken drivers. It is a campaign that will be permanent in my department, and unless there is a marked improvement in the situation I always will be searching for new ways to handle this particular form of law violator," Rogers said.

Under the motor vehicle law, there are two ways to handle drunken drivers. One is a felony charge, the other a misdemeanor. Unless property is destroyed or persons injured or killed, the law points out that the crime is a misdemeanor.

The filing of driving while intoxicated charges against persons arrested by the Santa Ana police department will not take jurisdiction from Judge J. F. Talbot in such cases, as his court can try all misdemeanor cases, it was pointed out.

Greetings were sent over the air to A. S. Bradford, "father of Placentia" and president of the chamber of commerce. Introductory remarks were made by Secretary T. E. Pickrell of the chamber of commerce, and by Mayor C. E. Haiber.

PLAYERS WILL OFFER BARRIE PLAY THURSDAY

With the final dress rehearsal for "What Every Woman Knows," scheduled for tonight at 7:15 o'clock on the stage of Ebell auditorium, members of the cast of this famous Barrie comedy drama, are expected to familiarize themselves completely with stage exits and entrances, arrangement of furniture and "props," and all the myriad details that go towards the successful presentation of a play. The comedy will be given Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8:15 p.m. in the Ebell auditorium.

The cast of "What Every Woman Knows" is composed of Joy Briscoe in the role of "Maggie Wylie"; Valmer Clark as "John Shand"; Frank Lansdown as "Alex Wylie"; J. Parley Smith as "David Wylie"; Don Smith as "James Wylie"; Doris Robbins as the "Comtesse de la Brie"; Dorothy Mayhew as "Lady Sybil Tenterden"; R. R. Miller as "Charles Venables"; and Ruth Owens as a maid. Directed by Harriet Owen Enderle, this group of players has been meeting for almost nightly rehearsals in The Barn, transferring the activities to the Ebell auditorium only last Thursday night when the first dress rehearsal was given.

Each member of the cast has appeared in at least one Community play, and practically every member has worked in one-acts given before the members of the association at their monthly meetings in The Barn. Mrs. Enderle, the director, has taken prominent part in various successes including "Potash and Perlmutter"; "The Country Cousin"; "R.U.R." and "Smiling Through." Her interest in the directing angle of the plays was aroused when she presented small casts in one-acts at The Barn, but "What Every Woman Knows" is the most ambitious thing she ever has attempted. Those who have watched rehearsals, have found the play moving smoothly and logically to its climax.

Tickets went on sale Monday for the three performances, and advance sales indicate a lively interest in the production. Various theater parties are being planned for different performances, among them one comprising Business and Professional Women who are warmly interested in the fact that their first president, Miss Doris Robbins, has a prominent part.

Miss Robbins is also active in Pegues club, and that group of writers plans to attend one of the performances.

Dr. Richard R. Lyman, of Salt Lake City, a member of the council of twelve of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, is to be the speaker of the evening at the Latter Day Saints chapel at 811 West Myrtle street, at 7 p.m. January 21.

Dr. Lyman, in addition to being a high official in the Mormon church, is one of the leading civil engineers in the west. During the past year he has been engaged by the Metropolitan Water district of Southern California as a member of the engineering board of review, along with Thaddeus Merriman, of New York City, and A. J. Wiley, consulting engineer of Boise, Idaho, to determine the most logical and feasible route proposed for bringing water from the Colorado river to Southern California cities.

In church activities, Dr. Lyman is especially interested in the welfare of young people. As general superintendent of the Young Men's Improvement association he has been very active.

Other numbers which have been arranged for the morning by Art Cannon and Floyd E. Stewart, program committee this week, include tap dancing by Lucile Lehman and popular piano selections by Francis Lehman.

Other activities of the morning will include Breakfast club harmonies and setting up exercises under the direction of Isadore Fields with Art Cannon at the piano.

A MASTER MOVE

Doesn't Frank Lansdown look the very picture of a canny Scot in the make-up he will don for the part of "Alex Wylie"? He appears certain that his opponent, Don Smith as "James Wylie," soon will find himself checkmated. The third in this trio of players, is J. Parley Smith, the interested looker-on at the game with which the famous Barrie play opens. "What Every Woman Knows" will be presented for three successive nights beginning Thursday, in the Ebell auditorium, the curtain rising each night promptly at 8:15 o'clock—Photo by Rundell.

ORANGE COUNTY MAN NAMED ON SENATE GROUPS

Announcement of the various state senate committees made yesterday by Lieutenant Governor Frank Merriam shows that Southern California is receiving more consideration in legislative channels and that the senator from Orange county, N. T. Edwards, of Orange, has been chosen to lead one important committee and to serve on eight others.

Membership of the reapportionment committee was increased by Lt.-Gov. Merriam from seven to 15, with the chairmanship and four other seats going to men from the southern part of the state. Those from the south who are on this committee are McKinley, Carter and Rochester, of Los Angeles county, Edwards of Orange county, and Duval of Ventura county. Senator McKinley is chairman of the committee.

Senator Edwards was made chairman of the roads and highways committee and was chosen by the head of the senate to serve on the following committees of that body: public morals, finance, agriculture, building and loan, reapportionment, motor vehicle, oil industries and banking.

A pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation of an array of miscellaneous gifts to the honoree.

Bridge was the game of the evening, and when scores were added on the clever little tallies Miss Cleora Fine was awarded a quaint cream and sugar set for holding a high score. Mrs. Smith was consoled with a desirable prize.

At a late hour card table covers were exchanged for crisp linens, and a tempting two course supper was served. The soft glow of many candles added charm to the daintily served menu.

Those present, other than Mrs. Markel, the hostess, and Miss Carroll the honoree, were Miss Eileen Carroll, Miss Bernadine Ashen, Miss Rosemary Ashen, Miss Katherine Markel, Miss Margaret Young, Miss Evelyn Wurster, Miss Cleora Fine, Mrs. Barney Brock, Mrs. Roy Smith and Mrs. John Planchon.

Made Incentive For Supper Party

Complimenting Mrs. Mabel Pinney of Denver, Colo., who is visiting friends in this city, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Carender presided at a delightful Sunday night supper in their pleasant home, 921 North Flower street.

Mrs. Carender chose sweet peas for decorative purposes, and their vivid petals gave charm to the prettily arranged table where a delicious chicken menu was served. Covers were laid for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Carender, their honoree, Mrs. Pinney, Mrs. Ogel and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Maines and daughter, Mary, of Redondo Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Olen K. Sutliff of Pasadena.

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Follow Directions to Be Successful Cook

I believe that much good material is destroyed in cooking by non-adherence to instructions in method of handling ingredients. For instance, what do you do when directions say to mince, chop or hash some ingredient?

Do you just say, "Oh, what's the odds, I'll just run it through the food chopper and let it go at that," and then wonder why your food comes to the table looking like the dog's plate?

When your cook book says to chop an ingredient, it means just that, and by hand, in a chopping bowl with an old fashioned chopping knife. When directions say to cut vegetables in definite sizes, it means that if you fail to do your part the cooked food looks messy.

When slicing is directed, you are not to confuse it with cutting or chopping. When mincing is directed don't think that just because you have run the article through the grinder that you have followed directions—all you have done is to help the ingredient leave its flavoring juices in the food grinder.

Be exact in everything you do when cooking. Follow directions for making and measuring to the final letter. That is the only way in which you can hope to be successful in your cooking.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Fig Loaf Cake

1 cup butter
2 cups brown sugar
1 cup sweet milk
1 egg, well beaten
1/4 teaspoon soda
3 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon nutmeg
3 cups bleached sultana raisins
1 pound table figs, chopped
1 teaspoon vanilla and a good pinch salt.

Some hours before you plan to make your cake, wash the raisins and spread out on a tea towel to dry.

If you use raisins still wet and attempt to flour them dry, you will have the sad experience of having a heavy cake from the use of too much soggy flour. The flouring of raisins should properly be a dusting—not a thick coating.

Cut the butter into a warm bowl and blend it until it is soft and fluffy. As it reaches this stage beat the sugar into it by gradual stages and beat the mixture until it resembles whipped cream. This is one of the cardinal rules for making fine grained, good cake.

After this creaming add the beaten egg and mix well. Sift the flour twice with salt, nutmeg and baking powder and add to the sugar mixture, alternating with the milk in mixing (dissolve the soda in the milk—this to offset the slightly acid effect of brown sugar.)

After the batter is mixed add the vanilla, the raisins, dusted with flour and pack the batter into a deep tin, lined with buttered paper, and bake for an hour or longer in a slow oven.

Have the figs cut in fine shreds and add them to the cake as it is put into the tin—that is, spread a layer of batter then a generous sprinkling of fig shreds, more batter, and so on, until the figs are all in. There is less possibility of them working to the bottom of the cake this way.

This cake is so wealthy as to calories I dislike having to tell you its sum total, 7200 calories, productive of energy-curves and a desire to sit still and ruminate. A thin slice of this cake will average not less than 250 calories.

Native Daughters

At the meeting of Santa Ana parlor Native Daughters of the Golden West held Monday in the Knights of Columbus hall, it was decided to adopt two war veterans in Sawtelle. The organization will send money to the soldiers each month, and will subscribe to magazines and literature for them.

The present membership drive is proving quite successful, and is under the leadership of two captains, Mrs. Gertrude Carter and Mrs. Marguerite Cramer. The drive will end in April when the grand president will visit the local parlor.

Members of the Native Daughters are anticipating two events of this week, the first of which is an installation of officers in Long Beach Thursday evening. The second is an installation in San Pedro Friday evening.

WELL LIKED HERE

Theater goers who remember "Seven Heaven" should see "The Man Who Came Back," now showing at the Fox West Coast theater. The picture stars again Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, who have not worked together for many months. It is a reunion for them, and the bringing of the two together again should prove a big box office attraction.

The picture opened at the Fox West Coast on Monday and shows through tomorrow night.

"The Man Who Came Back" is taken from the stage play of 10 years ago, but much of the undrawn story of the stage has been swept away until the picture is of a Pollyanna type.

It is the story of a man who goes down into the depths taking a beautiful girl with him. How she stays through it all and then brings him back to the surface, make for good entertainment, throughout.

Miss Phyllis Lucy Keyes arranged the program in co-operation with a group of music teachers, including Mrs. Margaret Buttree, Miss Louise Chapman, Mrs. Marie Eyerly, Mrs. Grace Hamil, Miss Mildred Marchant, Miss Leonora Tompkins and Mrs. Lola B. Wilkinson, each of whom presented one pupil.

The numbers included "Polonaise in a flat" by Chopin, Miss Katherine Gorath; "Song Without Words" by Strebbog, Miss Joanna Overman; "To the Sea" by MacDowell, Miss Genevieve Eustice, "Shining Roses" by Strebbog, given by Miss Ruth Hawley.

The boys' quartet of the Brea high school lent variety to the program with two selections, "Pale in the Amber West" and "On the Road to Mandalay." Miss Louise Tate gave "Rigoletti" by Verdi and Spindler, Miss Harriet Skinner "Waltz Arabesque" by Lack, and Miss Dorothy Miller played "Contrasts" by Simons. The concluding numbers were piano duets, "Theme and Variations" by Mozart and "Fantasia" by Grieg, played by Miss Marie Fitchett and Miss Dorothy Proctor.

Roy Harris of Glendora, modern composer, will be the speaker at the next meeting to be held in February.

"Hey! Wait!" the Travel Man cried out. "The thought you have is fine, no doubt, but you can't swim in such a place. That water beats down hard. I'm positive you'd hurt you all. 'Tis best to stand and watch it fall. We want no accidents because our whole trip would be marred."

"He's right," said Scouty. "Not for me! Right here I'm safe as I can be. Come back here and remain with us. You might get lost again." "All right," snapped Clowny with a grin. "The swim is off and I give in. I thought it was a dandy hunch, but I'm wrong, now and then."

Soon Carpy said, "Let's take a hike. We'll see some sights that

Missing Letter Links

RULES:

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

SEND TO WORD—If you cannot solve this letter links hole you had better SEND WORD to the pro. and practice hard. It requires three careful strokes.

respected, the commission has flouted to satisfy personal political conceit.

FALSE AUTHORITY

The commission has even gone so far as to reverse its own broad presumption with an even greater presumption of false authority. By what right did the commission decide in the first place that either Sharkey or Schmeling should be champion of the world?

Having assumed that authority, however, and lifting the foul penalty ruling to make it easy for them to win, they have been forced to take a place in the background instead of leading the people. We should not enter into the political problems of China but we should be ready to offer our sympathy to them.

Miss Nellie Rumsey, who travelled through China during the past summer, told of observations and impressions gained on her trip. She also described some of the leaders in China and declared that the Chinese people are hard to be understood by the foreigners just as the foreigners are not understood by the Chinese. Miss Rumsey declared that the people are constantly being educated to a modern viewpoint so that they can take their places in helping to solve world problems. Miss Rumsey described experiences in China which show that the Chinese people are appreciative of the work that the foreign missionaries are doing for them.

Urging members of the Fullerton Council to send letters to senators demanding immediate consideration of the World Court, Dr. Graham C. Hunter, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Fullerton, declared that the most effective method of securing acceptance of the World Court protocols by the United States senate is to write directly to the senators.

Hunter declared that the senate had previously passed on the World Court with certain restrictions which have now been accepted by the other nations and the time is long past due for the action of ratifying the protocols by the United States. He praised the editor of the Santa Ana Register for taking a stand favoring the World Court. Following a motion by Hunter, a petition signed by the members of the council will be sent to Senator Shortridge urging prompt action by the senate. Hunter declared that if the World Court is turned down by the senate, the United States will be disgraced and a great blow will have been struck at world peace.

FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

NEW YORK BONDS

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—(UPI)—Evidence of indigestion, as the result of a heavy meal, was apparent today, with oil stocks fairly active.

Richfield Common led in volume with 11,400 shares at 4% off 4%. Richfield preferred 2,000 shares off 1%, ending 14% above its points at 18%. On 1400 shares Transamerica was steady at 12% on 1300 shares. Standard Oil of California at 47%, and Union Associates at 23% were unchanged. The market was off 1% with 300 shares at 23% off 4%.

Security-First National sold 50 shares at 86 1/2, and Southern California Edison with 400 shares at 107 was steady.

The downward movement on the bond market was emphasized by weakness in convertible securities, caused by unsettlement in their respective stocks in the stock market.

High grade railroad securities, which had previously shown resistance to the selling, joined the decline around noon today, but losses among those issues were confined to the more popular fractions, ranging from 1% to 2%.

Security-First National sold 50 shares at 86 1/2, and Southern California Edison with 400 shares at 107 was steady.

Domestic railroads were under pressure, losses ranging from a fraction to nearly 2 points being recorded by a long list of these carriers. Domestic traction bonds sold off fractionally.

A few issues in the foreign department held firm against the trend, with 100 shares of that country dropped and equal amounts Chile Railways fell nearly 2 points, while leaders in the European division drifted lower.

United States government bonds displayed resistance to the lower movement, with a few treasury certificates registered slight gains.

Among the convertible bonds, Warren Brothers' led nearly 3 points, while 200 shares of a municipal bond were recorded by American Telephone and Telegraph 4 1/4, Goodrich 6 1/2 and Richfield Oil 6 1/2. Lettaro's 6 1/2 points, while East Cuba Sugar 7 1/2 points reacted 2 points.

EVENING SALUTATION

"Sobriety is not a negative condition; it is positive, active and enjoyable."

—GEORGE BERNARD SHAW.

GLORIFYING DRAMA

The decadence of the spoken drama and the usurpation of its former pre-eminent place as the headliner of amusement fare by the motion picture is a matter of great concern to the thousands who still cherish fond memories of the theater.

The youth of today will probably not carry through his fading years memories of climbs to "peanut heaven" to hear the soliloquies of Hamlet nor will he have seen the great contemporary stage celebrities in the flesh for lethargic apathy on the part of the playgoing public combined with almost insurmountable difficulties of production has closed the legitimate theater, except in urban centers. And it has drained the road of touring attractions of quality and left an uncontested field to the films.

Many serious attempts have been made for a revival of interest in the spoken drama. As yet no panacea has been found for the ills of the stage. But steps in the right direction are being made. There are offerings which are cherished and memorialized throughout the season by those who treasure the legitimate theater. Two of these offerings were made this week by the Shakespeare Guild of America. They were the performance Monday of "Romeo and Juliet" and last night of "The Merchant of Venice." It is not saying too much to say that the presentation last night was as good a production as has been offered anywhere in the country within the last five years, with one or two exceptions. Comparisons are odious. The point of this one is that there has been progress in the stage and today a company whose performance is available for an audience in a city the size of Santa Ana is far better than the performance anywhere ten or fifteen years ago, when the legitimate drama was in its heyday. The stage settings were wonderfully lovely and fitting for both performances. The dramatization of the various situations was something for students of the theater to conjure with. Mr. Richard Kean who is to speak in Santa Ana in February directed the performance. The excellent cast he had to work with, headed by Mr. William Thornton, glorified the immortal lines of the plays.

Another step in the preservation of the legitimate theater are the performances of Santa Ana's own Community Players group. This week they are going to present James Barrie's excellent drama "What Every Woman Knows", one of the finest plays which has ever been produced. In undertaking it they evidence a desire to aim high and fulfill one of the most worthy aims of little theater groups, namely presentation to drama-loving people of some of the best drama which has ever been written and drama which, because of changes in the taste of the majority of people has been nearly lost to those who count it as most worth while.

The schools and colleges in co-operation with such organizations as the Shakespeare Guild of America and the Community Players can do much to revive a waning interest in the theater and in so doing serve a double purpose for the educational value of Shakespeare's plays, competently done, supplements their study. The junior college and high school merit congratulations for bringing Mr. Thornton and his players to Santa Ana. The Community Players also are to be congratulated and supported for the character of their play this time. They have aimed high in order to live up to the highest aims of community players' activity. Their achievements of the past evidence that they have not aimed too high and Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights will undoubtedly be confirmation of this fact.

MORE JOBS NEEDED

The city officially is doing apparently all that it can on behalf of the unemployed. The interest of the officials has been keen; many men have been employed in special work, and this is distributed as far as possible to relieve distress in as many homes as the money can reach.

Repeated appeals have been made to the people of the city and county to do their part in furnishing employment to those who need it. It appears that before Christmas the responses were quite numerous, and many were employed by private individuals. These have almost altogether failed since the holidays.

Unquestionably, there are many hundreds who have some work that could be done about the home or the yard that would greatly aid just at this time. Of course it may be work that might not be done under ordinary circumstances, but it is infinitely better to give the work than to give the money, as is frequently pointed out.

It is to be seriously doubted whether the Christmas spirit has been at all smothered in the hearts of the folks, rather the response for jobs came at that time because the appeal was then made, and many do not realize after furnishing a little work that it is a continuous need on behalf of hundreds of families. Then of course in some cases the work was performed, and there is no need of more.

But many did not respond on the first call, and here is an opportunity to combine charity with personal helpfulness. It would be well if the householder would look about his place to see if furniture needs repair, if the plumbing fixtures are in perfect order, and how much work can be done in the yard. Every amount

CHANGING PARTNERS

Nearly every day now we read of congratulations being offered the former wife or husband of one who is about to be married again. The latest is that of Mr. J. Dwight Francis to his former wife, Kay Francis. Mr. Francis' present wife joins in the congratulations.

Partners are being changed, traded and attached more frequently in marriage it seems sometimes, than they used to be on the dance floor. The letters and telegrams containing super-heated love missives from different ones to and from a noted actress that are brought out in the trial of her secretary would indicate that the inconstancy doesn't start by any means at the marriage altar.

If this situation is ethically wrong, certainly the Pope's encyclical of recent date contains an admonition that really is much overdue. We are afraid, however, that his declarations will have slight weight against the running stream.

AN OIL TARIFF

Dispatches from Washington declare Senator Shortridge favors an immediate tariff on oil. We cannot see how congress can adjourn without correcting the situation as far as a tariff may be able to do it.

Russia is able to send in cheap oil, and she is doing it. Oil is being imported from other places, and at the same time the independent oil producers are in great stress. Right here in Orange county it is the oil industry's condition which has hurt us financially. All other things are in fine shape.

We were disappointed to note the attitude of Secretary Wilbur on the question of an oil tariff. He stated that he was opposed to it. Several Chambers of Commerce have declared themselves favorable to a tariff. The independent oil producers have sent on a delegation to Congress to urge this upon them, and we hope that California's delegation will be a unit in supporting an oil tariff.

Science Is Gauge of Life Values

(Pasadena Star-News)

Unselfish service spells the richest of riches in human life. Goodness is the gauge of wealth of the highest form. Money is not necessarily riches. More men have been impoverished with great possessions than have been made poor by lack of money. The difference of wealth between Croesus and a charity patient in a hospital may be in favor of the charity patient.

True riches proceed from the human heart and run in streams of golden deeds of unselfish helpfulness toward others. He who serves, saves his riches and amasses a fortune where "moth and rust do not corrupt and where thieves do not break through and steal."

Character is not measured in terms of the mint. Wealth is not gauged by bank balances. The truly rich man is he who spends himself lavishly for the good of others. The genuinely wealthy man may have a very limited bank account and may live in a rented house on a side-street. But he is about his Master's business, out there along the highways and by-ways, sought and found by the poor, the troubled, the needy, the unfortunate. He has not the time or the inclination to amass money, unless it be that he may have it to amplify the good he is doing for others. Bradstreet's may have no record in Wall street. But he may be utterly unknown in Wall street. But he has a bank book bulging with deposits in the grateful hearts of those to whom he has ministered in kindness and mercy.

There is a form of seeming riches that is poverty. There is a form of seeming poverty that is riches.

Favorite Tunes—After 25 Years

(The Christian Science Monitor)

Popular taste is fickle. Or is it? Not according to Walter Damrosch's announcement regarding the request program to be radio-cast tomorrow evening. Dr. Damrosch, in reporting the result of the radio fans' vote for numbers to be played on that program, noted that the works most in demand were the same as were favored for one of his "request" concerts of twenty-five years ago. "Lohengrin," "Tannhauser," "The Unfinished Symphony" of Schubert and, inevitably, the beautiful "Blue Danube" waltz.

A contemporary makes this query: "Does this mean that, after all, the public taste has changed less than is generally supposed? Or does it merely indicate that the director's followers are predominantly of the older generation?"

Whichever of these conclusions is accepted, the result of the vote would seem to substantiate the claim that popular music is merely familiar music. And in the United States there are thousands of listeners-in willing to acknowledge that radio, plus Dr. Damrosch, has done much to make the best music familiar to them.

Painful Disagreement About Speed of Bees

(San Francisco Chronicle)

It is always painful to have to disagree with results of scientific surveys. Yet truth is mighty and will prevail, as we have heard campaign orators assert.

All this is leading up to the bulletin of the Department of Agriculture which says that bees rarely fly faster than 35 miles an hour but are capable of 25 when they step on the gas. If this is so we contend it wasn't always so.

We distinctly remember one June afternoon when a bee went much faster than that, passed by a certain barefoot boy. That boy may have been doing only 25 in the first 100 yards but after he certainly was doing 50 or 60. And the bee ran rings around him when it wasn't sitting on his neck.

We ask the Department of Agriculture to look into the reasons why modern bees are losing their speed—if they are.

Work and Laugh

(The Fresno Morning Republican)

Now is as good a time as any to spout off existence all this depression talk. Truly, there are suffering and hard times and unemployment.

Just as truly the forces are at work that will readjust employment and in a comparatively short time men will again be piling up business on business to satisfy human needs.

But the idea of depression can not be argued away. It can be worked away and laughed away.

A RHYME OF REGRET

I'm sorry that I cannot say
As many other people do:
"I might as well have thrown away
All I put up for P. D. Q.
Of course a few hard raps I had,
But nothing to complain about,
The other losses weren't so bad;
That was the stock that cleaned me out."

No pleasant memories arise
To twist my features in a smile,
I cannot fondly realize
That I was wealthy, for a while.
When soaring up the market went
And tales of winnings filled the air
I never could invest a cent—
I did not have the cent to spare.

I cannot sit and fondly think
About the swell sedan I sold,
Nor hear the faint pathetic clink
Of a departed store of gold.
I didn't lose a sou last year,
I suffer no financial bruise,
For when the drop in stocks drew near
I didn't have a sou to lose.

Perhaps I ought not to complain;
Perhaps I should not be so sad;
If I amassed no golden gain
I have the little that I had.
But I have found out to my cost
That in the febrile street called Wall
Tis better to have won and lost
Than never to have won at all.

USELESS ADVICE

An Amherst professor suggests that the wealthy ought to spend more money. But that wasn't how they became wealthy.

INGRATITUDE

John Galsworthy is going to introduce a new family into fiction. And after all the Forsythes have done for him!

LUCKY THAT HE DIDN'T

If Shakespeare's first play had been a "talkie" he probably never would have written another.

TIP TO CONGRESS

By substituting an outgo tax for the income tax, more revenue could be raised this year.

Pop was smoking and thinking with his feet up, and ma sed, Willyum, that baby of Gladstones axially crawls better and better while you watch him, he's axially developed quite a cute little technie.

Is it anything like the Australian crawl? pop sed.

It's absolutely original, like everything else he does, ma sed. And what's more he's not content with just crawling out in the open. He insists on always crawling under chairs and especially under beds, she sed.

If he persists in that habit after he's grown up some old maid will catch him and won't let him go, pop sed, and ma sed. It's marvelous to see the mingled look of pride and accomplishment on his little face when he crawls out from one side of a bed after having gone in from the other side. Perhaps he'll turn out to be a famous explorer and discover a new continent or something, she sed.

At the very least he's apt to be the champion collector button finder of the world, pop sed.

And he's so ambitious, ma sed. Plain ordinary crawling doesn't begin to satisfy him, she sed.

Do you mean to say he's developing into a fancy crawler? pop sed, and ma sed. What I mean is, when most babies crawl in the usual humdrum way they think they have done enough. But not Willie. Instead of resting on his laurels like other babies, he gets himself into a sitting position and moves along like that at quite an astonishing burst of speed. Perhaps after all he'll be a great inventor, she sed.

I hope he invents a newspaper that can come apart, pop sed. And he got in back of his and blew smoke over.

In the Long Ago

From The Register Files
14 Years Ago Today

JANUARY 14, 1917

The Present Day club will be addressed next Monday evening by Prof. E. H. McMath in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Crisfield.

Becoming confused in attempting to avoid being struck by an automobile, Margaret Schuise, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schuise, 707 East Second street, was struck by the machine, thrown to the pavement and injured.

When Mr. and Mrs. Neal Brock returned last evening to their home at 409 Lucy street from Los Angeles, they frightened away a burglar who had been at work and who escaped with some valuable.

A thief pried a door off a glass case that stands at the entrance of Hill-Garden's store last night and carried away all of the boy's cans that were in the case.

Conover Theodore A. Winkler is registered at the Hotel Argonaut in San Francisco where he is attending the State Coroners' convention.

William Gosselin left Saturday to resume his studies at the University of California after a three weeks' visit with his father, Postmaster C. D. Gosselin.

The Aloha club was charmingly entertained Friday afternoon when Mr. James Elliott was honored.

INTERESTING DULLNESS

The effectiveness of our leadership, official and unofficial, depends to a large degree upon our becoming interested in the seemingly dull details of the technical procedures of government and business and education.

I am not playing with words when I say that one of the biggest problems before modern leadership is to make dullness interesting.

It is only once in a blue moon that the dramatic splurges of statesmanship are, in the long view, its most important contributions to the common welfare.

But we are mad for melodrama. Our sporting blood is stirred when a Roosevelt captures a Panama canal.

We like theatricalism in politics. When a Woodrow Wilson is playing an intellectual chess game with the leaderships of Europe and slowly hammering into shape a pre-armistice agreement on war aims and peace objectives, we look on with fascinated interest.

The old Jibe at Journalism holds good for most of us in our attitude towards government.

Vice has more news interest than virtue.

Let's get interested in the dull and more important side of government, and give the dramatic and less important part of government a rest for a while.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

DAUGHTER'S OPINION

Daughters have a hard time. Sons do not have a primrose path we will admit, but daughters have a much more difficult way. Their mothers are always in fear for them. A boy can make many mistakes and go scot-free as far as society has the word, but daughters, no. One mistake seems to be fatal. Mothers are in dread fear for their daughters when they are but slightly worried about their sons.

I have no cure for that fear. It is an attitude of mind that has been fostered in the mother since the beginning of time and nothing has happened to lessen it. We may say what we please about the freedom of women, but let one make a single mis-step in the social conventions and she suffers. It ought not to be so. But today, a girl must watch out lest she would let heavy a price for a bit of fun.

This shadow is the background of every mother's mind as she watches her daughter grow up. Because of it she does and says things that make life for her daughter hard to bear. We may say what we please about the freedom of women, but let one make a single mis-step in the social conventions and she suffers. It ought not to be so. But today, a girl must watch out lest she would let heavy a price for a bit of fun.
